An interview with our NET Mr. Bell

- Q1: How long have you been teaching in Hong Kong? And have you taught in other places?
- Mr. Bell: Yes, I have for sure. I came here in 2001, so I guess that I've been here for seventeen years. I have taught here in about five to six different schools.
- Q2: Why did you choose BLCWC before you leave Hong Kong?
- Mr. Bell: Because I met our principal and I was impressed by Dr. Chiu. I like what she said and I was happy to join a school like this. I was actually going to stop teaching, but Dr. Chiu and Mr. Kong convinced me. They're so lovely, kind, friendly, welcoming and they also made me feel very safe to be here. That's why I changed my mind to leave and I decided to stay.
- Q3: Have you faced any difficulties when you stay in Hong Kong because the culture and teaching styles are really different here from those in western countries?
- Mr. Bell: I guess it depends on the school. Honestly, in a school that has a high ranking, there are really good students who love to learn new and dynamic things, like the Band One schools where the students are very lovely, smart, clever and hardworking. However, perhaps the government would put a lot of pressure or challenges on the teachers. In a weaker school, the students are obviously weaker and they are not as good or talented as the students in a better school. However, I could really enjoy teaching there.
- Q4: What makes you love debating so much and even want to teach debating?
- Mr. Bell: What I like is being able to spend time with a few students who really like the subject. If I am going to teach debating in English, having a few students who care about the subject would be great and it makes teaching easier. Also, I like seeing my students winning and beating other schools that are much better than theirs and it is kind of a sense of achievement. I think that debating helps students with their communication skills and even when they are working, as the employer could see the talent the students have when they are doing an interview.

- Q5: In this day and age, students have to study different kinds of subjects and it is hard to master them all. What would be the best way for students to overcome these obstacles?
- Mr. Bell: I believe that they have to face the fact that they are weaker in some aspects and deal with it. For me, I used to study maths but I was not good at it at all. However, I still insisted on studying maths and it eventually resulted in a bad ending. It was kind of a big failure, but a failure just put me in a different direction. Therefore, I think that students should stay optimistic towards their obstacle and try to overcome it. If they still can't get past it and it results in a failure, it's still okay because they could still have a bright prospect if they work hard enough.
- Q6: Are qualifications really that important to students?
- Mr. Bell: I can't deny that it is important, but I am sure that students with weaker results could still find a suitable job for them. For an employer, the most important and vital personality they want their employees to have is hard working. Therefore, for hardworking students I believe that their future will be bright as Hong Kong is a city with a huge diversity of jobs.
- Q7: At their age, it is the golden time for students to learn. However, some students spend too much time playing video or mobile games, do you support this phenomenon?
- Mr. Bell: I think that there is nothing wrong with playing games as long as students can have a balanced approach to playing games and studying. Playing games could even be beneficial to studying as it is a great way for relaxation and I play games too when I want to relax after working hard. However, it is very crucial to be careful not to spend too much time playing instead of studying because obviously, it would not end well.
- Q8: How do you see the way that students nowadays learn English?
- Mr. Bell: In the past, Hong Kong used to be a very grammar-oriented place as we had a grammar paper for the English exam. However, students nowadays have fewer chances to use English in the proper way as everything that students see is in Cantonese and all they speak is in Cantonese. As a result, students' English level is decreasing and the only way to change that horrible thing is to use more English in daily life. Using more English and speaking more of it is of vital importance to learn English better and more effectively.

何同學表示雖然他是入讀梁植偉中學才深入接觸 到佛教,但其實他是出生於一個佛教家庭,特別是母 親喜歡去一些佛教場所禮佛,家庭環境對他决定參加 是次皈依儀式有很大影響。何同學希望未來能多做一 些善事、好事,幫助更多人,實踐佛陀的慈悲教導。 何同學祝福學校未來能成功舉辦更多更有意義的佛教 活動,傳播佛法。

何老師則表示她二十多年前已皈依佛教,今次 她其實是在梁植偉中學第三次參加皈依,主要是想 陪伴及見證自己的學生皈依。何老師表示在梁值偉 中學教書,令自己很有一種使命感,她希望能用自

己的所學所教來弘揚佛法,令一代又一代的學生能 正信佛教,獲得正知正見。老師最後祝願學校能秉 承佛陀的精神,常轉法輪,人人都能精進學佛,蒙 受法雨滋潤心田。
